

Dani Gullickson | Event and Operations Manager

Dani joined CHAD in December of 2014 and grew her role into the event and operations manager during her first five years. She brings with her a strong background in customer service and administrative support.

Her primary duties include managing virtual and in-person events, including two annual multi-state conferences, meetings, and trainings.

Dani also provides partnership oversight for Immunize South Dakota, a statewide coalition. She also assists the CEO and supports CHAD staff in operations, training, and finance.

Dani holds an associate degree in business administration from Southeast Technical Institute. She lives in Harrisburg, South Dakota, with her husband and children.